

Call for papers

CULTURE & AGRICULTURE

Published by the American Anthropological Association
on behalf of the Culture and Agriculture Section

Culture & Agriculture (C&A) is an international peer-reviewed journal of the American Anthropological Association. The journal has an interdisciplinary readership among anthropologists and archaeologists, as well as researchers and practitioners in related fields including sociology, agricultural economics, food studies, policy sciences, and diverse branches of farming and natural resource management.

SUBMIT YOUR PAPER TODAY!

Central to the mission of C&A is exploring the connections between environment, ecology, agriculture and aquacultural practices, fisheries, natural resources, food processing, and nutrition as they relate to cultural dimensions of gender, class, property relations, and labor processes. C&A also welcomes contributions on matters related to sustainability and biodiversity. Dialogue between scholars, activists, and others interested in these matters is encouraged.

C&A publishes brief contributions (up to 10 manuscript pages), articles (up to 20 pages), book reviews and review essays. C&A also considers publication of special sections with a guest editor; these typically include 5-7 articles.

C&A is indexed by Anthropological Literature, ASSIA: Applied Social Sciences Index and Abstracts, IBR - Internationale Bibliographie der Rezensionen Wissenschaftlicher Literatur, IBZ - Internationale Bibliographie der Geistes- und Sozialwissenschaftlichen Zeitschriftenliteratur, International Bibliography of the Social Sciences, PAIS International, Social Services Abstracts, and Sociological Abstracts, among others.

Submissions and inquires should be forwarded to the editor:

Kendall Thu
Department of Anthropology
Northern Illinois University
T20KMT1@wpo.csu.niu.edu

For complete submission guidelines, please visit www.blackwellpublishing.com/cuag

